Aspirational Target for the Year	merit

Current comments from course leader on progress, work/homework	Anne is well liked by all tutors and peers and she is in a good place to start on the positive work she achieved in last year on the L2 course. L3 will be a step up for Anne and she may find that challenging at first. Anne does not always ask for help and we do not want her to struggle unnecessarily so we will check in with her regularly to ensure she is not falling behind. Longer work placements are part of L3 and I think this will help Anne to consider what career she may like to pursue in the future.
Aspiration target for the year	merit
How has the Post 16 Bursary been spent?	This will be spent on travel and food expenses.
Any transitions or changes expected in the next few months	no
Work experience opportunities	Work placements will commence in January.
Views of carers and/or parents on attainment and progress	A carer has said to Anne she has lots of choices, she doesn't need to make her mind up now about the future as this can cause some anxiety for Anne. Anne does really enjoy going to college. Anne made the right choice in applying for L3 and we are very pleased with how well she has done. Anne is well prepared for this year. This could be a good time for Anne to get a part time job.
Any additional information

Wellbeing and Mental Health Support:

Key discussion points at the meeting:	Focusing on settling back into college and thinking about work placements and where might be of interest to Anne.
How are confidence and resilience being developed and how is this being measured?	Anne has had monthly meetings with A.Designated teacher and this will continue as it is working well and ensures any concerns are dealt with immediately.
How is behaviour management being supported to ensure that there are no exclusions?	No behavioural issues

How is wider participation being encouraged and measured?	Anne has struggled in the past with making friends but she has a core group of friends from her course and they have joined the college gym together.
